

Were you diagnosed with Hyperemesis Gravidarum during any of your pregnancies?

833 responses

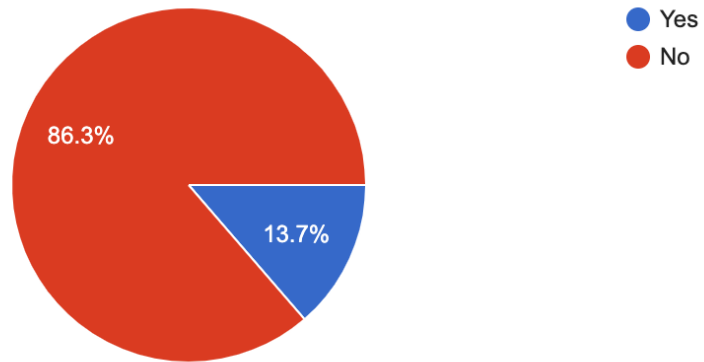

Did you consume cannabis to treat nausea?

831 responses

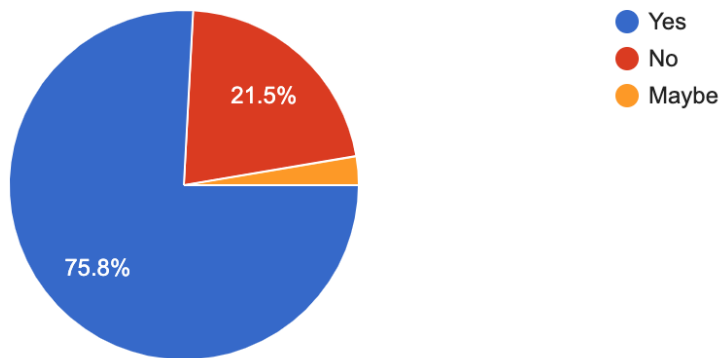

Do you have a MMJ license to purchase cannabis in your geographical location?

827 responses

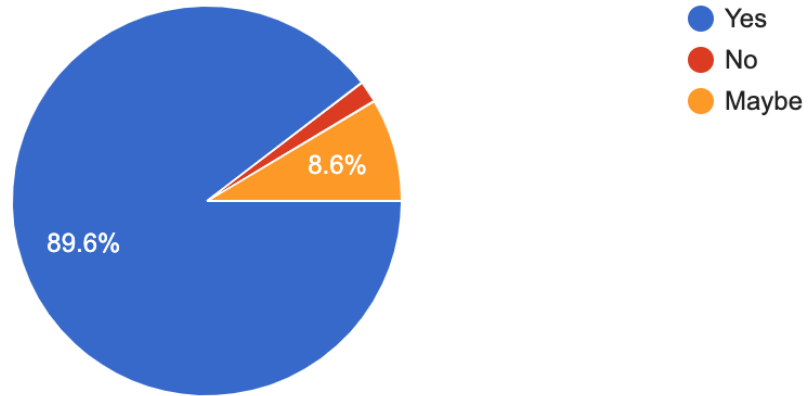

Did you have other health concerns unrelated to pregnancy that you chose cannabis as treatment?

828 responses

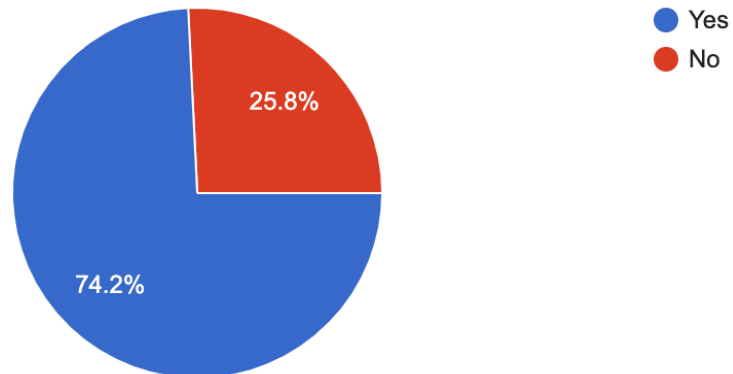

Do you believe cannabis is a vital part of optimum health?

830 responses

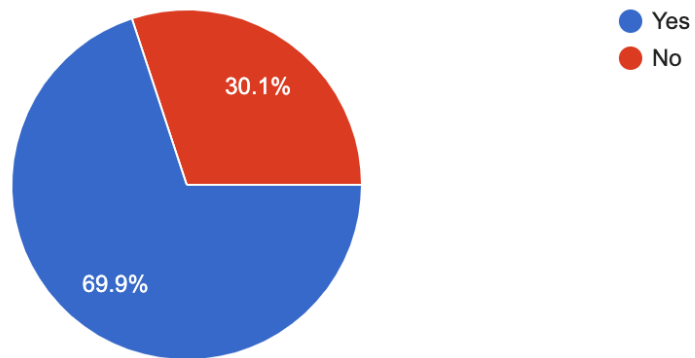

Did you fear your health care provider would report your cannabis use to the government?

830 responses

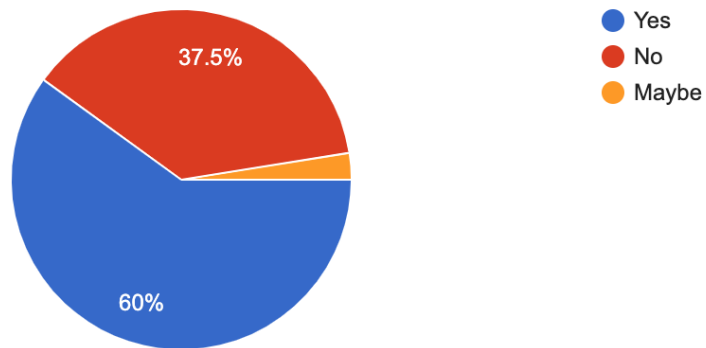

If you were afraid of governmental involvement, did your fear cause you to lie to your health care provider about your cannabis consumption?

818 responses

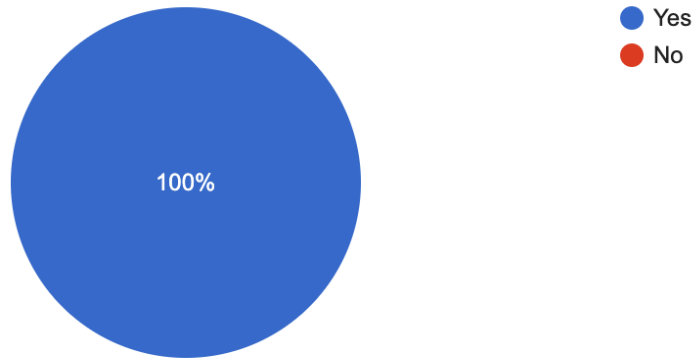

Did you stop consuming cannabis at any time during your pregnancy due to your fear of governmental involvement and possible removal of your child from your care due to cannabis consumption?

832 responses

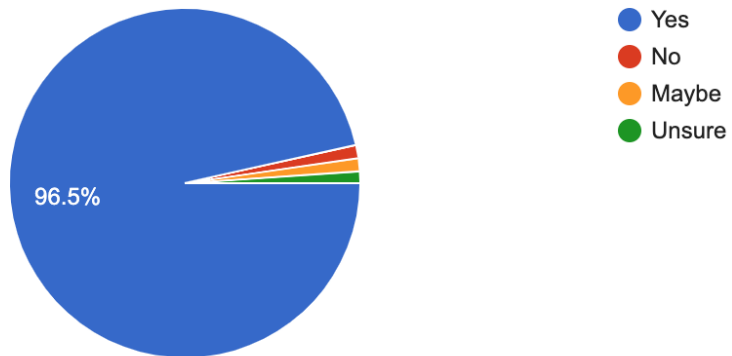

Do you believe it is your right to choose cannabis as part of your health regimen?

833 responses

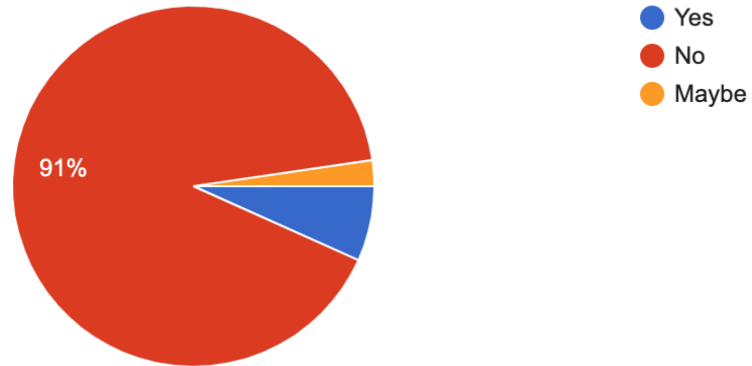

Do you believe doctors and hospitals that drug test for cannabis without consent violate the rights of their patients?

831 responses

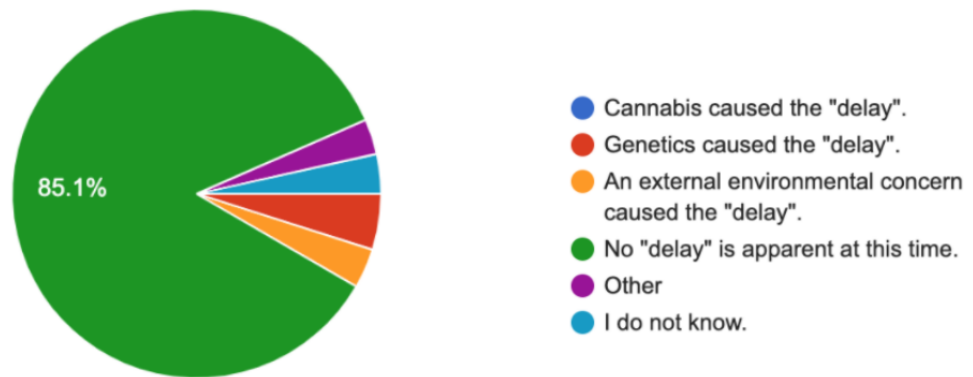

Do any of your cannababies seem to have developmental delays at this time?

818 responses

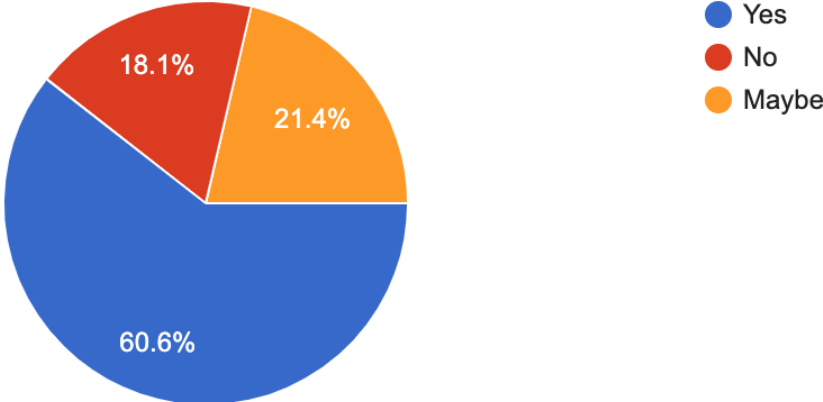

Do you believe the possible "delays" are a direct result of cannabis, genetics, or an external environmental concern?

776 responses

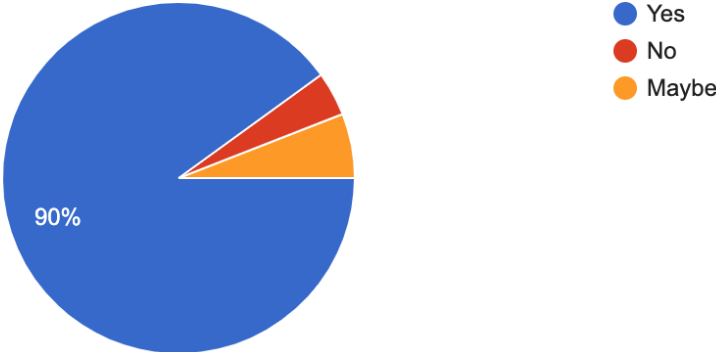

Do you consider any of your cannababies "advanced"?

814 responses

Do you believe your cannababies hit their developmental milestones as expected?

810 responses

Do you believe your cannababies were harmed by your choice to consume cannabis while pregnant?

820 responses

